Actions to stop doing:
There are no actions to stop doing. Everyone was able to make the meetings and check-ins we had.

Actions to start doing:
Each member of the team should make sure to provide daily updates to the team on what they are doing and follow having a team standup where everyone can update the scrum board as well.

Actions to keep doing:
As a team, what allowed us to complete all of our user stories was meeting at least twice a week for sprint planning and sprint review and also using our discord server to communicate and track progress.

What worked was meeting at least three a week for sprint planning and sprint review and keeping track of stuff on the discord server.
